

Don't You Wish Your Martial Arts Training Hadn't Missed This Vital Ingredient

It's 1:17AM. Bill's just ended a grueling, 19-hour marathon day with his boss.

Walking to his car is just a blur.

His only thought is staying awake long enough to get home.

Fumbling with the keys in a darkened parking lot, he's jolted from his trance as he feels the searing pain of a gun barrel jabbed deeply into his ribs and hears the gun cock...

"Gimme your wallet and don't turn around!"

What Bill Couldn't Do In The Most Critical Seconds Of His Life, Made His Wife A Widow... And His Children, Orphans!

It's true.

Most violent crime is over in a heartbeat. The bullet travels faster than you can blink.

It's never pretty.

And someone's living... and someone's dead!

And I'm gonna show you how to make sure it's not you.

The Missing Ingredient

Bill thought he was prepared. He wasn't.

Years of training in the martial arts, even more in reality-based fighting. It was always rules, referees and competition.

But with his life in the balance he loses it, unable to step over the line and take a life, even when it meant saving his own.

Instant widow; instant orphans.

And Bill's not the only one.

Since no one we know would kill for a wallet, we recklessly assume some punk-ass thug wouldn't either. But then we'd be dead wrong.

We've unwittingly transferred our moral code to a killer... and with it, most likely, your life.

It's easy to babble... "Turn the other cheek. But at 1AM with the gun in your rib cage the answer is... "Break his jaw.

Medieval Techniques in the Space Age

Others tout World War II tacticians. And GI's then were the world's best fighting machine.

But that's because they lived by a code totally missing on today's mean streets.

Teaching Kids To Kill

And we know soldiers back then had trouble pulling the trigger. Yet listen to Congressional testimony of Lt. Col. Dave Grossman (author of the book, On Killing) and you discover today we tragically teach kids to easily and ruthlessly pull that trigger both on their Grand Theft Auto video screen... and on your street, too.

What Bill and others are missing is this...

When Your Life's On The Line... It's Kill Or Be Killed!

And there's just one System on earth, modeled on criminal violence, that guarantees you can instantly & emotionlessly trigger the skills of a killer, if needed, to save your life or someone you love.

Built ONLY to handle violence, it installs the ability to act quickly & instinctively because stopping some ruthless punk, even when faced with seemingly paralyzing fear, can be surprisingly simple. Regardless of your physical abilities.

Others may claim it's over-the-top, that it goes too far. "You're just creating killers.

But they're dead wrong. It doesn't teach people to become killers. It teaches people to save their own lives... regardless of what it takes.

Because even if you hand over your wallet some clown may still shoot you, just for breathing.

Ugly? For sure. Scary? Perhaps.

And it's the only thing that guarantees you walk away alive.

Whiners may say it's not real, that it can't possibly be this easy. But it is.

Because when you finally realize some creep hasn't spent years practicing to attack you, you begin to sense there's probably a simpler way for you to immobilize an attacker, leaving a broken clavicle, dislocated shoulder and more... as you walk away.

And there is.
